It is hard to believe that the school year is half over. The first half of the school year has been great. Everyone seems to be adjusting well and getting into a routine. I am happy to announce that after the first of the year we will have a new face in the kitchen, as the new kitchen manager will be starting after we come back from Christmas break. I am excited to see what this individual has to offer OPAA! and Knox County R1 School district.

Our breakfast participation and lunch participation are still thriving. We have served 280 more breakfast this year compared to last year. Lunch numbers look a little different due to the two snow days that we have already had this year. On paper it looks like we have served 368 less students' lunch. (Thanks to snow days) In reality if we would not have missed two days of school, we would be setting at approximately 286 more lunches served this year compared to last. I would love for you all to pop in someday for lunch and spend some time with the kids during lunch time. The elementary kids love to have visitors!
